PROTECT MY PUBLIC MEDIA

Phil Meyer, SOPBS CEO

Dear Fellow SOPBS Members,

At press time, multiple reports were indicating that the White House is planning to send a rescissions package to Capitol Hill, eliminating previously appropriated funding for public media.

The details have yet to be released, but we anticipate this would include fiscal year (FY) 2026 and FY 2027 advance funding for the Corporation for Public Broadcasting. This is the most serious threat public media has faced in decades.

Upon receipt by Congress, there is a 45-day clock for Congress to act. Members of Congress could amend the package within certain limitations. If Congress does not act within this timeframe, the funding must be released.

Federal funding is essential for local public television stations' ability to provide all Americans in communities across the country with essential services in public safety, education and community connections, everywhere, every day, for free.

At about $1.60 per person per year, or less than .01% of the federal budget, federal funding for public broadcasting provides an exceptional return on investment through public safety partnerships, educational services and homegrown programming.

There are 170 locally-operated, locally-controlled, locally-focused public television licensees in the country, which reach almost 97 percent of Americans, including more rural and remote communities where commercial television can't succeed.

The Government Accountability Office has concluded that the federal investment is essential to ensuring public television's universal service, particularly in rural America.

For the 22nd year in a row, public television was ranked the most-trusted institution, with 76% of Americans agreeing that public television provides an excellent value to communities.

88% of parents agree that PBS Kids is a trusted and safe source for children to watch television, and play digital games and mobile apps.

Public media has earned the broad support of the American people, across the political spectrum — including 65% of people who voted for President Trump — who think public television is either adequately funded or underfunded, according to a recent YouGov survey.

SOPBS has never been more valuable. And it has never been more vulnerable.

On Pages 24-25, you will find our semi-annual listing of Individual Donors, Board Members, Underwriters, and Supporting Foundations. If you are on that list, thank you for your investment in SOPBS. Without you, there could be no us.

If you would like more frequent updates by email, go to our web site at sopbs.org/enews. You can sign up for Phil's Friday Facts, where I share station news, programming highlights and industry trends. Coming in mid-May, DAYTRIPPIN' SOUTHERN OREGON will be your weekly guide to events and attractions in and around Southern Oregon and Northern California. We'll highlight experiences within a day's drive from the Coast in the West, Mt. Shasta in the South, Klamath Falls in the East, to Roseburg in the North.

This two-hour documentary, produced by Bradley Cooper, is centered on the personal experiences of caregivers providing for loved ones, and the challenges and triumph they face each day. As the number of caregivers declines, and the number of individuals requiring care in our country increases, the challenges grow. Caregivers require differing types and levels of support.

At times, the burdens of caregiving can seem unbearable, regardless of resources. The "needs gap" for information may be greater for caregivers than it is for care recipients.

*According to recent reports, it is estimated that between 53 million to 105.6 million U.S. adults provide unpaid caregiving for family and friends.

*An estimated 5.4 million children and adolescents in the U.S. are direct caregivers for family members.

*The value of the care provided by unpaid family caregivers across the U.S. was $600 billion in 2021, according to a 2023 AARP report.

There are five million paid caregivers nationally in the U.S., as of 2023.

Median annual earnings for direct care workers in the U.S. are $23,688.13, as of a 2023 report.

A majority of Americans cannot afford to take care of their families. They see it as their responsibility, and often their failure. To get by, they cobble together solutions, even quitting their jobs to look after a loved one – a newborn, a parent, a friend, or an in-law. Things are getting worse as baby boomers age into their 70s. We are facing a social crisis as America's piecemeal and expensive care infrastructure, created a half century ago, has reached a breaking point.

Parents were defined as those who said they had children under 18 living in the household. Total figures reported include those who answered "unsure/don't know/none of the above" for individual questions (which ranged from 1%–28% per question). The margin of error is +/- 2.6%.

Sundays, May 4 at 9pm

Miss Austen takes a literary mystery – Cassandra Austen notoriously burning her famous sister Jane's letters – and reimagines it as a fascinating, witty and heart-breaking story of sisterly love, while creating in Cassandra a character as captivating as any Austen heroine.

In 1830, a while after Jane has died, Cassandra races to see her young friend Isabella, who is about to lose her home following her father's death. Cassandra is ostensibly there to help her friend, but her real motive is to find a stash of private letters which, in the wrong hands, could destroy Jane's reputation. On discovering them, Cassandra is overwhelmed as she is transported back to her youth. In flashback, we meet Young Cassy and Jane as they navigate the infatuations, family feuds and dashed hopes which shaped their lives and laid the foundations for Jane's stories.

Cassandra's re-evaluation of her past eventually leads her to realise how blind she has been to the real cause of Isabella's heartache and distress. Finding a way to guide Isabella towards true happiness, Cassandra is finally able to understand and celebrate the sacrifices she chose to make for her brilliant sister, Jane.

May 4 - Episode 1

Why is Cassandra Austen determined to find the letters her sister Jane wrote to her friend Eliza?

May 11 - Episode 2

As Cassandra falls ill, her mind is flooded with memories of difficult times.

May 18 - Episode 3

Through her fevered delirium, Cassandra guards Jane's letters from her sister-in-law Mary Austen.

May 18 - Episode 4 (at 10pm) - Season Finale

Cassandra takes a final step to protect Jane's legacy.

Wednesdays, May 7 – 28 at 10pm

Take a four-part journey into the world of insects, showcasing the planet's most populous but least appreciated creatures.

A handful of scientists and enthusiasts around the globe explore the beauty and complexity of bugs, discovering cunning adaptations, bizarre behaviors, and why insects are known as "the little things that run the world."

Investigations into a worldwide insect "apocalypse" highlight the critical roles bugs play on the planet and the bleak picture of a future without them. From pollinators like moths, bees and butterflies that bring food to our plates, to tiny insect assassins to the clean-up crews that work the land and purify the soil, insects have been running the world since before the time of the dinosaurs.

Stunning macro cinematography reveals their color, complex body plans and surprisingly charming lives in otherworldly detail, from intricate mating rituals to staggering physical transformations straight out of science fiction.

A glimpse into our long history of dependence on insects reveals that even in some of the planet's most remote corners, this relationship – thousands of years old – may now be on the verge of collapse.

May 7 - Insect Apocalypse – Series Premiere

Could a world without insects survive? Scientists and enthusiasts investigate the global insect "apocalypse."

May 14 - Lifegivers

Dive into the colorful world of Earth's essential pollinators – bees, moths, and butterflies.

May 21 - Eat or Be Eaten

Uncover the ruthless world of some of the stealthiest and cleverest insects in the animal kingdom.

May 28 - Beetle Mania – Series Finale

Are beetles truly 'the most important species on the planet'?

Six Episodes
June 16, 17 & 18 at 8pm & 9pm

This new six-part series takes viewers on a unique journey back through time, revealing the incredible life stories of these long-lost giants.

Each episode tells the dramatic story of an individual dinosaur whose remains are currently being unearthed by the world's leading dinosaur hunters. Thanks to cutting-edge science, experts can reveal how these prehistoric creatures lived, hunted, fought and died more accurately than ever before. As the dinosaur's bones emerge from the ground, the series will bring these prehistoric stories to life with state-of-the-art visual effects – making each episode a gripping dinosaur drama based on the very latest evidence.

Across the six episodes, audiences meet a range of spectacular dinosaur species in an array of prehistoric landscapes. These include a Spinosaurus – the largest carnivorous dinosaur to ever walk the earth – roaming the rivers of ancient Morocco; a youthful Triceratops battling a ravenous T. rex in North America; and a lonely giant Lusotitan risking it all for a love in Portugal.

There's never been a better time to travel back to the prehistoric. We're living through a golden age of palaeontology that is transforming our understanding of dinosaurs. Around 50 new species are being identified every year, and science is revealing extraordinary new details about dinosaur biology and behaviour. Across the globe, hundreds of dinosaur experts are currently scouring the wilds for new dig sites, and this series has exclusive access to some of the very best.

Andrew Cohen, Head of BBC Studios Science Unit said, "It's the ultimate dinosaur show, where you'll be hiding behind the sofa one moment and having your mind blown the next. The prehistoric world meets premium documentary production, like never before."

in the Spotlight

Friday, June 20 at 9pm

During the 1960s, as a teenager, acclaimed American singer-songwriter Janis Ian used to jam with Jimi Hendrix in Greenwich Village bars and partied with Janis Joplin, who jokingly called herself "the other Janis." During the 70s, Janis befriended Bruce Springsteen as they simultaneously recorded albums at the same studio. In the 80s, she played duets with Dolly Parton and Willie Nelson in Nashville.

She lived the adventurous life of a rock star. At the same time, she contributed hit songs to the American pop canon that addressed severe social problems, winning the Grammy Award for Best Female Pop Vocal Performance. She encountered her share of setbacks and stress: there have been times when she's been dropped by her record label, struggled to land gigs, and lived on a fast-food diet.

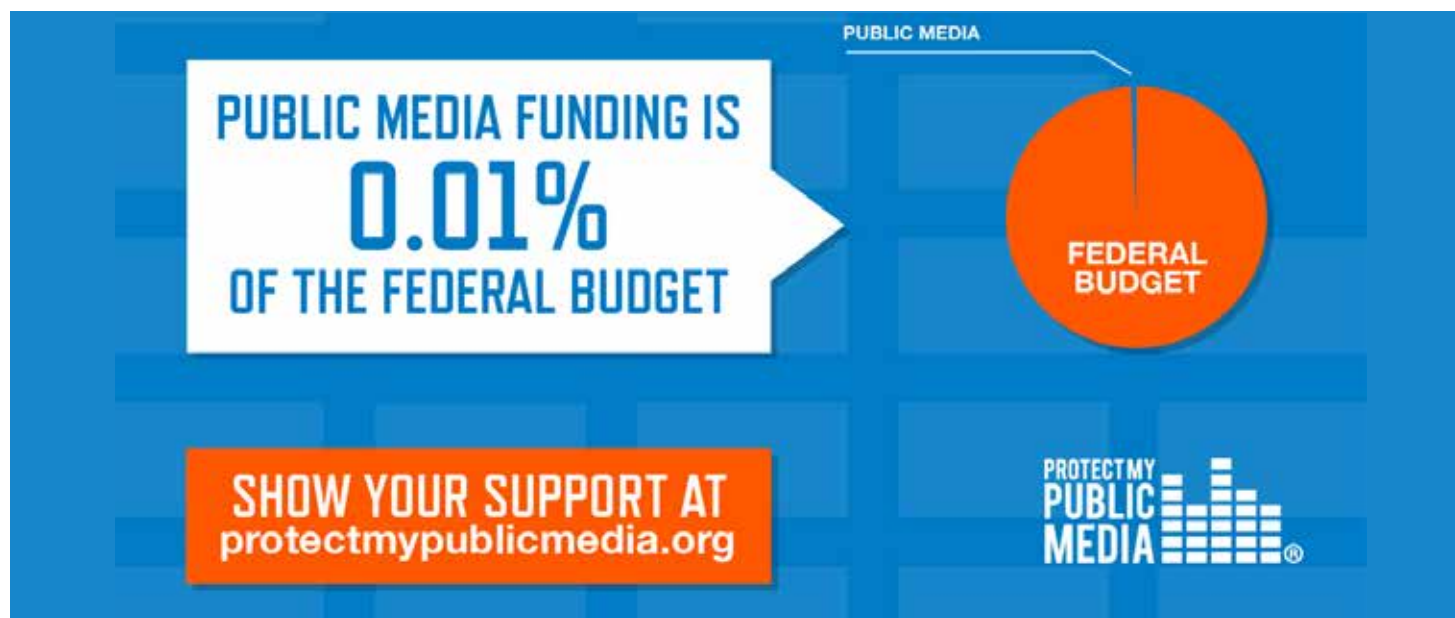

Janis Ian and the Art of Song (working title) will chronicle the singer's epic life journey beginning with her Jewish childhood on a chicken farm in New Jersey; her youthful struggle with notoriety following her hit "Society's Child" (about an interracial love); her ascent to fame with the single "At Seventeen" (about body shaming); and her release of the disruptive album BREAKING SILENCE which she leveraged to come out publicly about her loving relationship with her wife Pat Snyder.

With access to Janis Ian's incredible body of music, her vast archive, family, friends, famed collaborators, and music journalists, the film has an intimacy of a home movie set against a sweeping historical context — all visioned through a contemporary lens.

BROADWAY'S BEST

NEXT TO NORMAL

Fri, May 9 at 9pm

An intimate portrait of a modern family, the show explores illness, loss, grief and family as a suburban wife and mother lives with bipolar disorder and is haunted by her past. This three-time Tony Award and Pulitzer Prize-winning musical stars Caissie Levy (Broadway's "Frozen"), Jamie Parker (Broadway's "Harry Potter and the Cursed Child"), Jack Wolfe (Netflix's "Shadow & Bone") and Eleanor Worthington-Cox.

YELLOW FACE

Fri, May 16 at 9pm

An Asian American playwright protests yellowface casting in the blockbuster musical "Miss Saigon," only to mistakenly cast a white actor as the Asian lead in his own play.

The repercussions resonate in this farce about the complexities of race. Tony-winning playwright David Henry Hwang's comedy from Roundabout Theatre Company stars Daniel Dae Kim ("Lost," "Hawaii Five-0").

GIRL FROM THE NORTH COUNTRY

Fri, May 23 at 9pm

In 1934 Duluth, Minnesota, a group of wayward travelers' lives intersect in a guesthouse filled with music, life and hope. Written and directed by celebrated playwright Conor McPherson and featuring Tony Award-winning orchestrations by Simon Hale, the musical features 20 reimagined, legendary Bob Dylan songs, including "Forever Young," "All Along the Watchtower," "Hurricane," and "Like A Rolling Stone."

KISS ME KATE

Fri, May 30 at 8pm

Starring Tony Award winner Stephanie J. Block in her West End debut as Lilli Vanessi, this production of Cole Porter's legendary musical comedy features classic songs including "Another Op'nin, Another Show," "So In Love," "Brush Up Your Shakespeare," "Too Darn Hot" and more.
